Girl born in Pennsylvania has a transparent back. Well backed up indeed.

If the men compelled the women to wear such clothes there would be trouble.

London physician says vells make women's noses red. Sort of a veiled insinuation.

A New York man ran up a laundry bill of $3,530. But, then, New York is a strange city.

Half the population of France is agricultural. And the other half lives in the Latin quarter.

Large crops of preserves are reported by housewives, not meaning the peroxide kind, either.

A Kansas dentist succumbed to injuries while playing golf. And golf is said to be a harmless game.

By the way, what became of those feminine faddists who were going to wear socks instead of stockings?

Autumn undoubtedly draws closer the bonds of devotion—witness the fond clinging of the affectionate fly!

A man has written a newspaper to ask how to get relief from snoring. Why don't he keep the snorer awake?

Esperanto may have been invented so that the dove of peace would be enabled to coo in a universal language.

Scientists say it will take a long time to stamp out the hookworm. Well, it took a long time to discover it.

The movement against tipping is all right, but it takes a whole lot of moral courage for a man to live up to the theory.

A famous English physician says that by the year 3912 human beings will look like gorillas. We should worry.

Now the fool who rocks the boat will be succeeded by the sorrowful individual who didn't know it was loaded.

A London nerve specialist says modern dress is actually killing women. He's a nerve specialist, all right.

A New York alderman has been caught in a blackmailing trap. He should congratulate himself he never was on the police force.

A Chicago chauffeur who ran past a halted street car contrary to law and killed a man has been sentenced by the coroner's jury. Which, of course, is a consolation to the relatives of the victim.

A French novelist says that love is a criminal madness. He is not the first to assail the divine frenzy, but it may be noticed in passing, that love as a human institution has survived all its critics.

Even if prisons are all that they are alleged by critics, they ought to be quite good enough for the man who rocks the boat, and who needs the most drastic kind of treatment to rid society of his species.

An Austrian professor, bound for Mars, via the United States, has been sent back. It is one of the few instances in which we are forced to confess that European estimates of our resources are entirely too high.

In very many cases apples are brought to market loosely packed and in wagon without springs, almost invariably with barrels on end, and this short journey is many times harder on the fruit than the long car transportation to the distant market.

Following in the footsteps of Luther Burbank a Denver horticulturist has preceded a rasp-strawberry. Now if raspberry would produce a plum-peach, it might be possible to get ahead of the pests which ravage the orchards, by baffling them for a few seasons at least.

A youth attending the Michigan State Agricultural college stocked a pond with frogs and is more than paying his way by supplying frogs' legs to the Chicago market. It is said he has shipped as many as 6,000 in a single day, and that they netted him $900 last year. Time was when boys were glad to catch frogs and sell their legs for ten cents a dozen, whereas the price now is half a dollar and upward.

The use of socks by women will not be opposed by mere man. Then he will usefully find a pair in condition for service whenever he looks in the bureau drawer.

Chicago society women are having flax parties to shake off the hoodoo. But the only sure way yet found to shake off the Chicago hoodoo is to shake Chicago.

There are still a few kuddos left, but hunters who aspire to not one had better make their arrangements early.

Poland is possessed of salt mines that have been worked for the last 600 years. They ought to be getting down to the salt of the earth by this time.

It is announced that the American woman's foot is getting bigger. This will be all the better for her in these emphatic days when she is putting it down.

Now the family furnace will begin to do its little best to prove that the coal supply is not inexhaustible.

MIKADO'S GIFT TO GEN. GRANT LOST

RING VALUED AT $100,000 IS DROPPED IN WASTE PIPE BY DAUGHTER.

SEWER SEARCHED FOR GEM

Lloyds Pays $5,000 Insurance on Historic Jewel After Making Diligent Search—Secret Guarded Six Months.

New York—A secret, carefully guarded six months, was discovered when it became known that Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris Jones, daughter of Gen. U. S. Grant, lost last May a historical emerald ring given to her father by the emperor of Japan at the time the famous soldier made his tour of the world.

The ring, the intrinsic value of which is placed at $25,000, was dropped down a waste pipe at the Hotel Renaissance, 512 Fifth avenue, where Mrs. Sartoris was living prior to her marriage last July to Frank H. Jones, a Chicago banker and assistant postmaster general in President Cleveland's second administration.

Value Fixed at $100,000. The historical and sentimental value of the gem can only be guessed at, but an authority declared it was certainly worth $100,000.

When Mrs. Sartoris inherited the jewel she insured it with Lloyds of London for $5,000, and the full amount was paid after the company conducted a search such as had never before been made in this city.

It is the boast of Lloyds that it can find lost articles better than any other agency on earth, and to that end the company caused the city's sewer running from Fifth to Seventh avenue on Forty-third street to be cleaned of every particle of residue. The entire sewerage system of the Renaissance was explored.

Dropped in Waste Pipe. The ring dropped down a water vent in the bath room of an apartment on the second floor as the then Mrs. Sartoris was dressing for dinner. She so prized the jewel that she seldom wore it, and she was shocked and grieved by her loss.

E. W. Northrup, chief engineer of the Renaissance, was notified of the jewel's disappearance, and with Assistant Manager Watson went to the bathroom, where the trap was opened. No ring was found, and Mrs. Sartoris became frantic.

She was told that the gem might have lodged in a second trap in the cellar, and this was searched, but still no trace of the jewel was found.

A New York representative of Lloyds verified the report that his company had paid Gen. Grant's daughter $5,000.

PAID MORGAN $13,500,000 JUDGE RAPS SUFFRAGETTE

FINANCIER'S CONCERN FORMED HARVESTER TRUST.

Firm Member Testifies Fee for Service in Formation Was 165,000 Shares of Stock.

New York—J. P. Morgan Co. received 165,000 shares of stock for services in connection with the formation of the International Harvester company.

This stock on August 14, 1912, was valued at $13,500,000.

So testified William Hamilton of J. P. Morgan & Co., on the stand here at a continuation of the government hearings against the International Harvester company.

The witness produced a contract agreement dated August 13, 1912, providing for the deposit of certificates with the Morgan firm by Charles Deering, Cyrus H. McCormick, Harold P. McCormick, James Deering, Robert P. Howe, W. B. Jones and John J. Hosmer.

He was requested also to produce lists of the owners of the certificates who entered into an agreement with the firm not to sell the stock before giving J. P. Morgan & Co. a chance to purchase before September, 1912.

Abraham M. Hyatt, vice-president of the Lincoln Trust company, who in 1912 was vice-president of the New York Trust and Securities company, testified he became one of the incorporators of the International Harvester company.

INDICTS 6 FOR TARRING GIRL

Grand Jury Orders Arrest of Men Who Mutilated 18-Year-Old Newark (O.) Maid.

Norwalk, O.—The grand jury, which has been investigating the tarring of pretty 18-year-old Minnie Lavady of West, Clarked on August 26, 1912, supposedly by women of the village, returned indictments against six Clarkfield township men, accusing them of riotous conspiracy. The names are kept a secret pending arrest of the men. The accused are said to be prominent.

Miss Lavady appeared before the grand jury several times. She excited the pity and horror of the jurors as she detailed the attack upon her, which the jury in its report characterized as an "outrageous offense against law and decency."

MAN, 35, HAS 36 WIVES

Champion Polygamist of British Empire Is Found—Nearest Competitor Has 29.

Johannesburg, Transvaal.—The champion polygamist of the British Empire has been discovered among the Bantu tribesmen of the Transvaal, according to returns of the census of race. He has sixty-six wives and is 35 years old.

His next nearest competitor in the matrimonial stakes boasts of only twenty-eight wives.

FEARS "DANGEROUS CRANKS" WOULD MULTIPLY.

Tells Brooklyn Woman Who Hacked Gov. Wilson Fanatics Will Be Dealt With Severely.

New York.—The militant suffragette hereafter will be regarded by the New York city courts as a "dangerous crank," if the ruling of Chief Magistrate Kemper in the case of Miss Mand Malone, who interrupted Gov. Wilson at a Brooklyn meeting, is observed.

The magistrate said: "But let it be known to women of your violent temperament that we will not tolerate lawless methods and that fanatics of either sex will be dealt with as seriously as possible by our magistrates, while rational propaganda for any proper cause will be given its due air."

"If such conduct as yours is suffered to go unpunished the number of dangerous cranks will multiply, as also the numbers of mayors, presidents and other public men who will be carrying bullets in their bodies."

"Although you profess to believe you were heroic and helpful to a great cause, in reality you only succeeded in disgracing yourself and injuring that cause. Persons of your type only retard the day of women's enfranchisement, just as the stone throwers and window smashers in England are setting back, instead of advancing, their cause in that country."

MRS. SICKLES AIDS HUSBAND

Veteran's Estranged Wife Prevents Sale of His Personal Effects a Second Time.

New York.—A plea against a sale of the personal effects of Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, the aged war veteran, who was formerly ambassador to Spain, was made by his estranged wife to Sheriff Herburner.

The sheriff agreed to a postponement of the three-day sale, when Mrs. Sickles promised to pay about November 20 money necessary to satisfy a new judgment against her husband.

NIHILIST STABBED PRINCE

NEWSPAPER DEMANDS DETAILS OF ATTACK.

One Assassin Suffers From Wound Inflicted by Soldiers—Czarevitch Is Eight Years Old.

Odessa.—Further strengthening of the report which will not be downed that the little czarvitch has been the victim of a nihilist attack, resulted from the publication by the Odetsky Listok, of what it alleges are the inside details of the attack—the culmination of an oath of vengeance registered at the birth of the heir to the Russian throne.

The czarvitch was wounded, according to this story, by a nihilist named Wassiliew, who was bayoneted in the left groin during a fight with troops.

Wassiliew swore to be revenged on the czarvitch, the Odetsky Listok says, and after several years' waiting secured a position through forged recommendations as gardener on the palace grounds at Spala, caught the czarvitch during an unguarded moment in the garden and stabbed him exactly as he himself was stabbed eight years previously.

Wassiliew was captured, according to the newspaper's account. The story is, of course, wholly unverified.

His highest, the czarvitch, is suffering from peritonitis, according to latest official statement.

Crown Prince Alexis, the czarvitch, is 8 years old, having been born August 12, 1904. He is the czar's only son and the youngest of five children.

CLOTHES BELIEVED AXMAN'S

Articles Found in Iowa Thought to Be Murderer's—Coroner Starts an Investigation.

Villisca, Iowa.—Two boys, while squirrel hunting, discovered what the police believe to be the discarded clothing worn by the murderer of J. B. Moore, his wife and four children and Lena and Ida Stillinger, who were killed by an axman while they slept on the night of June 2.

There was a checked jacket, a pair of blue overalls and a pair of tan shoes. The knees had been cut out of the overalls.

Coroner Lundquist is having a number of spots on the overalls and coat examined to determine whether they are blood stains.

MOTHER IN CELL WITH GIRL

Purpose Is to Keep Lucile Cameron From Seeing Jack Johnson—Unable to Give Bond.

Chicago, Ill.—Mrs. E. Cameron, Fidoonnet occupies the same cell in the Rockford jail as her daughter, Lucile Cameron, the white girl whose alleged abduction by Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, led to federal investigation of Johnson's possible violation of the Mann law.

The mother desired to be with the girl to keep her under her own influence, she said, but it is believed she wants to be sure the negro does not communicate with Lucile.

The girl is held by the federal officials, having been unable to furnish the $25,000 bail demanded.

SLAYER OF 22 IS SENTENCED

Louisiana Ax-Woman, Member of Sect That Killed 30, to Serve a Life Term.

Lafayette, La.—Chemantine Baruch, self-confessed murderer of 17 persons, charged with slaying this number, was found guilty of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment. The testimony showed she had murdered 22, and it was not all in before it was decided that the rest was not necessary. The jury agreed she was respectable even though degenerate. She was the noted "ax woman," member of the sacred sect which has killed 300 persons in the last six years.

Threatens Edison's Life.

Becker Found Guilty.

New York.—Guilty of murder in the first degree, the verdict in three minutes before midnight by the jury which has been hearing the evidence in the case of former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker.

HE WAS TAKING NO CHANCES

Small Boy's Precautions May Have Been Excessive, But He Still Had the Suit.

Rev. John N. Underwood, one of Pittsburgh's most eloquent and earnest ministers, said the other day: "In a temperance address in the spring I pointed out that drunken husbands kill every year, with revolvers and hatchets and clubs, 3,600 wives. That 2,500 babies are killed by drunken fathers who crash them in bed. That 50 per cent. of all our divorces are due to drunkenness."

Mr. Underwood paused, then added: "I heard recently of a little boy to whom a warm and comfortable suit had been given. The boy's father was a drunkard, and it was feared that the suit would soon find its way to the pawnshop. But a week after the lad had got the suit he was still wearing it."

"Good for you, Johnny!" said a missionary to the little chap. "Still wearing your suit, I see."

"Yes, sir," the urchin explained. "I sleep in it!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Talk With Shakespeare.

"But, Bill," says Shakespeare's friend, "I'll be bodkinized if I see the sense in that song Ophelia sings, nor why you put the song in there for her any more."

"When you've been in the show game as long as I have," replies Shakespeare, still a bit excited over the first performance of "Hamlet," "you'll know that when the producer wants a song in a scene, the song goes in. Besides, this girl that's playing Ophelia was a hit in musical comedy, and the manager argued that the public expected to hear her sing somewhere in the piece. Let's go over to the mermaid and buy drinks for the critics."

Superior Attraction.

One of the two women who sat near the front of the car had been to the theater the night before to see a certain beautiful actress.

"How does she hold her age?" eagerly asked one who had not been.

"Well, to tell you the truth, Mamie, she wore such a lovely pink dress that I couldn't take my eyes off it the whole time she was on the stage, so I never thought of looking at her face to see whether she held her age or not—I should say she did, though."

Sacrifice Made for Dress.

Using the Los Angeles fashion show for his text, Dr. Alfred Jones, a distinguished nerve specialist of London, now visiting the California city, made the assertion that "dress is causing the ruin of more lives in America than malignant disease."

He said the intense competition among American women of all classes to keep up the pace set by fashion was nerve-racking and nerve-destroying.

Way of Words.

"I must say this looks like sharp practice."

"It does—that's flat."
